

CSM TERRY L. ALFLEN
100th Missile Defense Brigade (GMD)
Command Sergeant Major

CSM Terry Alflen, a native of Kimball, Neb., entered military service in February 1982. He attended Basic Combat Training at Fort Dix, N.J., and then Advanced Individual Training at Fort Gordon, Ga.

CSM Alflen's previous assignments include command sergeant major, 2/135th General Support Aviation Battalion; operations sergeant major, Colorado Army National Guard, Joint Forces Headquarters-Colorado; first sergeant, E Company, 2/135th Aviation Brigade; first sergeant, Task Force Warhawk, and senior operations noncommissioned officer, 2/135th Aviation Battalion. CSM Alflen has also served in every key leadership position in the field of aviation operations and repair.

CSM Alflen is a 2005 graduate of the United States Army Sergeant's Major Academy and has completed every level of the Noncommissioned Officer Education System. CSM Alflen has also completed numerous military courses in the field of aviation. He is currently working toward a bachelor's degree in information technology from Aurora College.

CSM Alflen's significant awards include the Bronze Star, Meritorious Service Medal, Army Commendation Medal (two oak leaf clusters), Army Achievement Medal (two oak leaf clusters), Good Conduct Medal (7th award), the Iraqi Campaign Medal, Global War on Terror Service Medal, the Combat Action Badge and the Master Aviation Badge.

March 2014

